EPI (Environmental Port Index)

EPI has been introduced to provide an economic incentive for sustainable and environmentally friendly cruise operations, and to make it less profitable to arrive the port with ships that pollute. EPI is used for all cruise calls and affects the quay dues. Cruise ships report data from the call no later than 72 hours after departure. Based on reported data, the ship will get a score between 0 (worst) and 100 (best).

The quay dues will then get the following % change:

Score under 30 $((30 - \text{EPI score}) \times 1/100) \times 100\% = \% \text{ extra}$

Score over 30 $((30 - \text{EPI score}) / 8 \times \text{EPI score}) \times 100\% = \% \text{ discount}$

If the ship does not report the required data, the ship will receive a EPI score of 0. If the ship is equipped for shore power, the ship will receive a minimum score of 30 until the port can offer shore power to cruiseships.

ESI (Environmental Ship Index)

Vessels registered with an ESI index from WPCI (World Port Climate Initiative) is granted a 20% discount on fairway dues if the ESI index is 50 points or higher. The discount is calculated from payable fees. The discount is granted within the period of validity of the certificate: The port must be informed of the ESI registration prior to arrival. If canceled within 18 months before call, 10% of the fee will accrue.
